INTRO

The T90 writing desk was presented at the 10th Triennial in 1954. With its shaped, curved ply top and three drawers, it combined both technology and creative imagination, two key features in all the designs of its creator, Osvaldo Borsani. A new edition of the T90 was presented in 2012, as an icon of timeless elegance that is perfectly at ease in home and office environments.

The T90 writing desk comprises a shaped, curved top in black walnut supported by a slender structure in matt dark grey painted steel tube with adjustable feet. The three drawers are made from solid black walnut with recessed handles and fronts finished to match the work top.
